Access:

- From I-70 take Exit 203, Frisco / Breckenridge, and travel south on HWY 9 through Frisco and travel to Breckenridge.
- At the southern town limits of Breckenridge turn left on Boreas Pass Road (County Road 10). Follow Boreas Pass Road approximately 2.0 miles.
- Turn left onto Baldy Road (County Road 528) and travel 1.4 miles to what looks like a hairpin turn (intersection with County Road 536), park here.

Trail Highlights:

- This trail passes through several private property areas, please be respectful of the private property owners.
- From the trailhead you will travel east through a lodgepole pine forest. As the trail gradually rises, you will enter Englemann spruce and sub-alpine fir stands.
- An old mine building on your left marks the end of the easy part of the trail. Above this point the slope steepens making an excellent area for practicing telemark turns.
- Spectacular views of Mt. Guyot, the Continental Divide, the Tenmile Range and Gore Range can be seen from the ridge leading up to the summit.

Important Information:

- A high avalanche danger may exist because a large portion of this trail passes above timberline.
- Wind has a tendency to cause large snow drifts on this trail, especially toward the summit.
